A CARD—HAVING NOTICED AN ARTICLE IN YES. A terday's Horald, signed by J. Besson, Captain of the Tompkins Blues, I deem it my duty to reply in a measure. Oh pity, pity, shameful is it, that I am obliged to publish to the world, the receipt of money by the family, subscribed as a donation to keep them in food, and a shelter for their heads.

Shameful it is, it must be thrown up to them. We, the Tompkins Blues, Captain Besson, are not in possession of the receipts for the funds of that ball. In the name of God, gentlamen, have some regard for yourselves, if not for the fundly of the departed.

So far as other matters are concerned, in the card, I feel that it would be folly to reply.

In conclusion, I have now the painful duty to copy receipts, and show to the world, that the Tompkins Blues, Captain J. Besson, did subscribe a portion of sundry dollars, Stl7, most of this was raised outside of the company, they also gave a benefit ball to the family of their late Licutenant, John Thomas, amounting after expenses to $375.48. Whole receipts of ball Sil2; expenses $136.62.

Received of J. L. Waugh, twelve dollars for the board of John Thomas, two months at Avylum, it being in full te date. Signed by M. H. REEN BET, residing physician.

LUNATIC ASYLUM, January 39, 1852.

This bill was paid from my own pocket.

Received. New York, June 2, 1852. of Mr. Waugh $375.48, being balance in hand of benefit ball of Tompkins Blues.
